

Thank you Mike and your talented team of home builders!

Working with Mike and his team has been the most relaxed, enjoyable, worry-free and rewarding home building experience we have ever had. Mike's attention to detail, flexibility and impeccable integrity led us to choose Mike to build our home. Mike was always available to us when we had questions. He provided his insights based on years of experience and whenever something we asked about wouldn't work, Mike always had a suggestion that met our needs as well as or better than our original idea.

Mike reviewed our home plan, answered every one of our questions, asked a few questions of his own, and provided us with a price for building our home, which was within our price range. He explained the allowances included in the price and we were able to make changes to the initial plans with an understanding of the difference in price due to our new selections.

Mike's team includes many people who are not just talented at their craft, they are true artisans. Arturo is a magnificent tile artist who suggested exquisite ideas for the designs in our kitchen, butler's pantry, and baths in our home. Not only were his ideas terrific, the actual work was just as wonderful. We had seen a number of other homes that Mike had built, so our expectations for high quality carpentry work were high. Syd is a dedicated craftsman and his work truly exceeded our expectations. He suggested a number of ideas for trim work and his work is truly exceptional. We receive the most compliments on our home due to the work of Syd and Arturo.

Jason Mathews was our onsite supervisor and main point of contact for the duration of the building process. Jason was always available by phone, email, or in person to answer questions or show us the progress on the home. His commitment to a quality home was well balanced with a wonderful sense of humor, and made the entire home building process very enjoyable. Jason also suggested a number of improvements to the home that we enjoy every day.

Every person we dealt with throughout the building process has been unfailingly polite, detailed, and focused on their work. Each person put his talent into building the home of our dreams. There was never a time when we worried about anything on the home not meeting our expectations. We built our home long distance and this level of trust was critical to us.

Our sincere thanks to Mike, Jason, Syd, Arturo, and the entire team! Our home is truly the masterpiece of our dreams!
